2013 Habitat Restoration Days

Come Lend A Hand

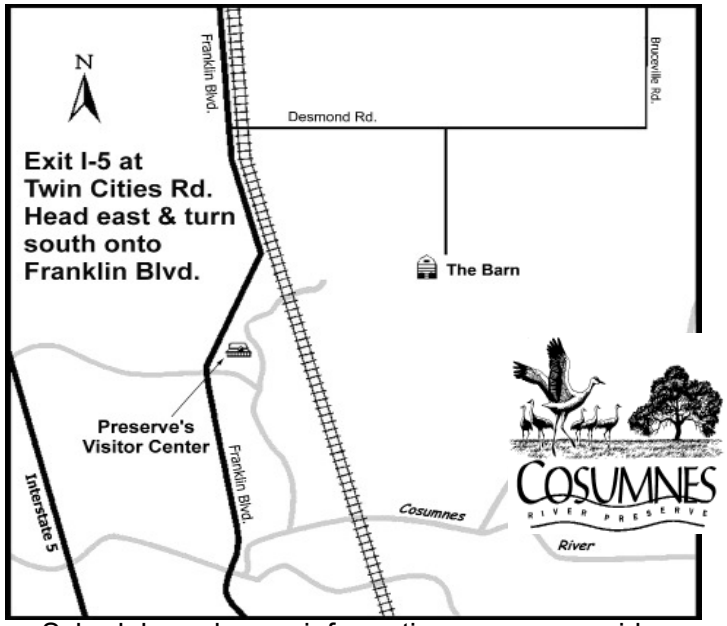

The Habitat Restoration Team (HRT) is an opportunity like none other; open to anyone that wishes to be truly involved with environmental stewardship at the Cosumnes River Preserve.

HRT assists Preserve staff with focused conservation projects that allow members to experience more of the Preserve and contribute to its success. HRT members may take advantage of specialized trainings, workshops, and events that are designed to help volunteers become more effective environmental stewards.

HRT is an opportunity to gain practical work experience in restoration and land management while helping to advance the Preserve's goals to provide sustainable habitats for Central Valley plants and wildlife.
